DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 10-13, 17, and 23-48 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on September 8, 2005. Additionally, claims 52 and 54 are withdrawn from further consideration because they recite features not present in the elected embodiment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-9, 14-16 and 18-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Thompson (3,655,119) in view of Jacobs (2003/0213826).

It is customary for airlines to give their customers an envelope in which to carry their boarding passes and other documents, as shown by Thompson. Jacobs teaches that it was known in the art to provide an improved document carrier that includes a necklace member. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made for an airline to provide document holders of the type disclosed by Jacobs, because these holders are hands-free devices, and because their transparent windowed pockets make it easier to present identification to airport security personnel.

Art Unit: 3611

Regarding claims 2-7 and 18-22, the holder disclosed by Jacobs is intended to be used in the manner recited.

Regarding claims 8 and 9, anything is disposable whenever its user decides to throw it away.

Regarding claims 14-16, airlines customarily include their logo on the document holders they distribute to their customers.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 49-51 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Jacobs (2003/0213826).

Jacobs discloses an organizer comprising a main body having a first compartment 26 that is sized to receive an airline ticket or boarding pass, and a second compartment 28 that is sized to receive an identification card. Both compartments have a window for displaying indicia on the airline ticket or boarding pass and the identification card.

Regarding claim 50, see Fig. 1.

Regarding claim 51, see paragraph 0031.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
